DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

In response to Applicant's arguments filed 29 January 2007, regarding the traversal of the species election, the previous election requirement is hereby withdrawn in favor of the presently modified election requirement. Specifically, Examiner agrees that hydroxyapatite may function to enhance both physical properties as well as biologic properties. Thus, the additional materials of species i and ii may not be distinct. Accordingly, these two groups have been combined into a single species encompassing additional material that has both functions.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species and requires restriction:

Bendable polymer:

- I. Fig. 2A
- II. Fig. 2C
- III. Fig. 2E

Additional material:

- Biologically active agents and delivery material and/or strength or rigidity imparting material
- ii. Radioopaque material
- iii. Material to alter resorption rate

Application/Control Number: 10/619,721

Art Unit: 3733

The species are independent or distinct because they are separate embodiments that are not used together, they have different physical forms, and/or they have different specific modes of operation.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species comprising one form of the bendable polymer and one form of the "additional material" for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Examiner acknowledges Applicant's assertion that claims claims 1-10, 14-17, 19-28, 33-35, 37-42 and 47-52 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 3733

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David Comstock whose telephone number is (571) 272-4710. Please leave a detailed voice message if examiner is unavailable. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Eduardo Robert can be reached at (571) 272-4719.
